

Shibui Bonsai Catalogue Juniperus chinensis- Shimpaku Feb 2017

Shimpaku are a classic Japanese bonsai species. This variety has tight, slow growing foliage so maintenance is relatively low. Your Shimpaku bonsai stays in shape for longer than most other species.

These junipers are quite slow to develop. It takes a minimum 5 years to get to the stage these trees have reached. Junipers have a habit of stiff, straight growth which can make designing dynamic trunklines difficult. Many of these trees were wired when young to give twisted and curved trunks which should give you the opportunity to develop great bonsai. These trees are ideal candidates for workshops and should give an impressive result immediately.

As usual I've included the pot size so you can gauge the size of these trees. If you'd like any further info, sizes or further pictures just email neil@shibuibonsai.com.au with the catalogue number (please remember to specify shimpaku)

Lots of foliage makes it difficult to see juniper trunklines in photos. Let me know if you want to see any of these from other angles.

Neil

Shimpaku 16-1 $200

30 cm pot

Shimpaku 16-2 $

30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-3 $220

30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-4 $180

30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-5 $

30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-6

$95

30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-7 $150
20cm pot

Shimpaku 16-8 $130
30cm pot

Shimpaku 16-9 $80

30cm pot

A well rooted trunk
just under the surface connects all these trees making it a natural raft style
juniper bonsai.

