

Shibui Bonsai

Other species 2024/25

Includes Japanese maples, Yamadori hawthorn, Chinese elms

Updated November 2024.

Be aware that the photos in this catalogue have been cropped to give a good look at the tree. Smaller trees can appear large so take note of the pot size specified to give a more accurate idea of the scale in each photo.

As usual, I'm often too busy growing and looking after bonsai to be able to update the catalogues so email to check whether individual trees are still available before getting your heart set on a particular tree.

Prices shown are ex nursery at Yackandandah. Please make allowances for delivery cost which can vary substantially depending on the destination and size of the tree. I can give you a fixed price when I know your location so include your postcode when enquiring.

I understand that it can be difficult choosing your new bonsai from pictures on the screen. I'm happy to take current shots of your chosen tree(s) showing different sides and/or scale so you can get a better look at any trees before you commit to a purchase. Just let me know when you make contact.

Neil

There are usually plenty of smaller starters of a number of different varieties so ask if you want something specific.

Japanese maples – Japanese maples are a traditional favourite for bonsai. Please be aware they are not as easy to manage as Trident maples and need protection from hot afternoon sun.

JM 23-2

20cm pot

$250

JM 23-3

20cm pot

$180

JM 23-5

Chinese elms are another traditional bonsai species. Chinese elm is hardy and easy to grow. Well suited to beginner growers.

CH 22-3

20cm pot

$200

A thicker trunk chopped short to produce a trunk suitable to develop broom style bonsai.

Chinese elm 22-12

20cm pot

$150

One side of the trunk has died after the initial trunk chop in 2022 so we've reduced the asking price for this tree. Now only $150

Ginkgo 23-1

20cm pot

$250

Large, field grown ginkgo. Twin trunk
